WASHINGTON NOTES

THE FORRESTAL

The supercarrier Forrestal— the largest warship ever built —will be commissioned on October 1st. By December, she will have finished all sea trials and outfitted, and will join the Atlantic Fleet.

FEDERAL PRISONS

There are now 20,800 prisoners in the six federal penitentiaries, according to James V. Bennett, director of federal prisons. This figure is 470 criminals over the same period of last year. The cause of the all-time peak prison population, according to Bennett, is mainly from longer sentences being imposed by courts.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY STAMP

The Post Office Department has announced that its new 50-cent stamp will feature a likeness of Susan B. Anthony, the famed woman suffracist, taken from an original photograph now in the Library of Congress. First-day sale of the stamp will be at Louisville, Ky., on August 25, the opening day of the annual convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans there.

MILITARY AID

American military officials in Europe have announced a speed-up in plans to deliver United States equipment to West Germany. The equipment will include heavy tanks, aircraft, and other modern weapons worth about $700,000,000.

FILE FOLDERS

The Army recently sought to sell as "surplus" a $450,000 supply of stiff paper file folders, which according to Senator John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) were "enough to supply the entire Federal Government's need for the item for 15 to 18 years." The Senator plans to ask for an explanation of why a stock that big was bought.

PROFITS UP

Earnings after taxes of the first 156 corporations to report for the first six months of this year show a remarkable increase of 40 per cent over the year before figures. Only 26 of them made less profits this year than last. Combined, the 156 show net income after taxes of $778,713,585, compared with $555,-521,531 for the same companies for the first six months of 1954.

HOUSE TRAILERS

According to recent reports, this year's sales of house trailers will hit a record high of more than $375,000,000, compared to $324,-000,000 in 1954. Manufacturers expect to produce more than 85,000 units this year, which is 10,000 more than last year's production.

MORE A-SUBS

With eight atomic - submarines already authorized, Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas has declared that the Navy hopes to build many others "in rapid succession thereafter." The Nautilus — the first A-submarine—was commissioned six months ago, and the Seawolf — the second nuclear-powered submersible —was launched in July.

BUMPER CROPS

The second largest corn harvest on record and bumper crops of other grains were predicted by the mid-year production forecast of the Department of Agriculture.

OF INTEREST TO OHMEMAKERS

Some tips on what to store in the home freezer for later consumption, suggested by VPI home economists:

Coffee stored in its own container— in the freezer—will keep its flavor better and longer.

Freeze extra ice cubes several days before your party. Remove from trays and place in heavy parchment or polyethelene bags. Store in freezer.

Ground spices which often become stale or rancid when kept in warm cupboards retain their quality in the freezer.

Fruit juices and purees prepared and freezer-stored in the heat of summer are good for making jellies and jams in the coolness of fall and winter.

Store purchased baker's goods in their own wrapper (if they are unbroken) if you intend to use them within a few days.

Salted nuts, caramel corn, potato chips keep their flavor and crispness when stored in the home freezer.

Noticeable in new food trends, say VPI specialists, are: plastic egg cartons, solderless food cans, foods in collapsible metal tubes, enrichment of foods with dried milk, and pre-packaged peeled potatoes.

Record Sum Being Spent On Va. Roads

A record breaking amount of money is being spent on Virginia's highway system this summer.

Construction projects valued at more than $58,000,000 are underway, according to a monthly report prepared by the State Highway Department.

The total, however, includes contracts amounting to $31,865,700 for two revenue bond projects— a new bridge over the Rappahannock River in the Northern Neck area, and a bridge - tunnel across Hampton Roads.

The remaining money, consisting of regular highway funds and Federal aid, is being used on 165 primary and secondary construction projects.

A spokesman for the Highway Department said the regular funds and special bond money pushed this summer's expenditures to a new high.

A spot check of 25 major projects throughout the state indicated that most of the jobs are either ahead of schedule or are on time. A few were slowed by rainy weather earlier in the summer.

Work is progressing on the Hampton Roads bridge - tunnel and the Rappahannock River bridge, which is scheduled to be completed during the latter part of 1957. The first of 23 tube sections of the Hampton Roads tunnel was lowered into position on July 22 and additional tubes will be sunk at the rate of about one every two weeks. The underwater portion of the bridge-tunnel, which with approach roads will represent an expenditure of about $58,000,000, will be approximately 6,900 feet long.

Steady progress is being made on constructing the large piers for the $15,500,000 Rappahannock bridge between Greys Point and White Stone. The first pier is scheduled to be completed by October 1.

PIGGY BANK TAKEN

Philadelphia, Pa.- The thieves which broke into a Cheltenham township home recently took only one thing—a piggy bank, owned by Stanley Craig, president, the Elkins Park National Bank.

Re-enlistments in the armed forces show a gain.

FORESTRY EXHIBITS TO BE INSTALLED AT MOST FAIRS AND FIELD DAYS

George W. Dean, State Forester, announced today that the Virginia Forest Service will exhibit at most of the fairs and field days this year. "We believe," said Dean, "that through personal contact at these occasions our men can give the public a better perspective of our work. Many fires can be prevented, much groundwork laid for forest management and reforestation and many questions answered for the timberland owner by contacting our men at these local get-togethers. We are going all-out this year," the State Forester said, "to have a representative of our organization and an educational exhibit at most of the fairs in the state."

"Last year our exhibits were placed at 86 fairs and fields days. At these county festivities our men were able to meet and talk to many Virginians who had considered planting tree seedlings or having their timber examined, but just had not taken the step of requesting assistance. Our men," said Dean, "were able to point out examples of good forest practices in the county and suggested that others visit the areas to see what should be done to improve the forest stand."

"For the last few years," Dean said, "we have had scores of requests from over the state for the 'Keep Virginia Green' license plate attachmentas. This year we plan to have these at many of the fairs—a small token payment of 25 cents for the plate will be charged for each license attachment. This charge will defray the cost of production."

"We invite everyone to visit the forestry exhibits at the fairs and field days," said Dean. When everyone understands the forsetry problem and accepts the challenge to improve the forest resources, they will be on the 'Keep Virginia Green team.''

MAN MAKES QUILTS

Royal, Neb.- Elmer E. Haskins retired 75-year-old farmer, spends his time, since his wife died, in making baby quilts and giving them to hospitals as gifts to new mothers. He makes only one qualification for his gift quilt—the baby getting one must be born on February 8—his own birthday. So far he has given away 22 quilts.

THE OLD STORY

Cincinnati, Ohio.- When their automobile ran out of gasoline, William Maltz, 55 and Ted Rivers, 35, got some gas and began pouring it into the tank. To be sure the gasoline was entering the tank properly, Maltz lighted a cigarette lighter. It was. In the ensuing explosion both Maltz and Rivers received third-degree burns.

SWALLOWS FALSE MUSTACHE

Vichy, France,- Jan Verbeeck, Belgian tenor, swallowed his false mustache during an operatic performance. After the intermission Verbeeck's voice was back to normal.

Sleeping Pills to Dog, Too

St. Petersburg, Fla.- Frank Tufaro arrived home about 5 P. M. to find his wife in a dazed condition and their pet dog almost dead. Mrs. Tufaro told her husband she had taken 28 sleeping pills and had given the dog 12. Given treatment, they are both recovering.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported that more than 1,250 arrests had been made in the year ended June 30 on the basis of information supplied by confidential informants.

LT. COL. JOSEPH O'BRIEN IS PROJECT OFFICER FOR REFRESHER COURSE

All aspects of Quartermaster operations in the continental United States and overseas are being studied by Army Reserve Officers in a two-week refresher Mobilization Designee course being given for the first time at the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot from July 25 to August 6.

Lt. Col. Joseph L. O'Brien, of Appomattox, Va., of the Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, is the Project Officer for this course.

The course of instruction includes a study of organization for national defense, organization and functions of the Quartermaster Corps, QMC operations in an overseas theatre of operations, and comptroller and financial management. The group will also study procurement, the production allocation program, the Quartermaster Depot system, food service, and disaster feeding, petroleum supply, the market center system, and other important aspects of Quartermaster activities.

NOT TOO CAREFUL

Crescent City, Cal.- Thinking himself to be doubly careful, Tom Mounto put his .22-caliber revolver in the glove compartment of his car and the cylinder in his shirt pocket. However, driving home with his family, Mounto stopped to pick a wild flower. As he stooped, the cylinder fell onto a rock, a bullet fired and hit him in the chest. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

LIKES THE U. S.

Southampton, England.- The Rev. Howard Wheeler, 53, who swapped churches with a South Carolina minister from Due West for a year, liked life in the United States so well he has accepted the pastorate of a church in Simpsonville, S. C., and will return there in September.

Demonstration Held At The Mabley Farm

William N. Patterson, Extension Dairyman, V. P. I., conducted a Fitting and Showmanship demonstration for dairy members on August 1, at the farm of Mabley. The calves were from Appomattox and Buckingham Counties were invited to attend.

Mr. Patterson demonstrated the boys and girls how to fit their calves in preparation for the show. He said the first step should be done now or within a few weeks for the Fall shows. First, by clipping the calves and washing them with warm water and soap, then rinsed with a hose. After being clipped and washed it is important that everyone could see that it should be done.

To improve the condition of the calves' skin and to bring out a glossy look in the hair, a little oil should be worn for several days. Patterson said that following the clipping and the washing the calves should be put on the exercise pen. He explained to the group how to halter break the calves, and how to put out of feed bags and feed troughs. Rope for making a quick halter was furnished each member present and each of the group made a halter.

Each club member present, which was eaten picnic style on Mabley's lawn. Mrs. Robert Mabley served chocolate milk, lemonade, ice cream.

Present for the demonstration were: Shawn Mabley of Appomattox County, from Appomattox County, Gilliam, Rose Lambert, Jimmy Nancy and Anne Mabley, Prince Edward County; Jackie and Bailey Wilkins also attended the demonstration.

A STRANGE URGE

Detroit, Mich.- George Pulaski, Tenn. residents, saw a large plate-glass window in the new modernistic department building and got the urge to "put my fist through it." He did. Then he was charged with malicious destruction of property. Waits will be allowed to replace the $158-window with only a three-inch pane as a "result of his fun."

BURGLARS COZY

Salt Lake City.- The burglars rummaged the home of Mrs. Thomas recently but only got a few sets of silverware, a sewing machine, a shotgun belonging to the husband, a quantity of merchandise owned by a local jewelry and a new pair of shoes, but they stopped long enough to raid the refrigerator and consume a bottle of soda pop.

WAR GAMES FATAL

North Sacramento, Calif.- Mrs. Ruth Whitley, 13, and her brother, Jerry, 10, were playing war games in a small shed, containing cans of kerosene, paint thinner and gasoline, when their ammo-dump, for some reason, caught fire, trapping Jerry inside. Firemen found a freshly dug hole and presumably stored the boy's body there. He was burned to death.
